For I Know The Plans I Have For You, Declares The Lord, Plans to Prosper You
And Not To Harm You, Plans To Give You Hope And A Future

Remember Who You Are

The late Lee Weyer was a National League umpire for 26 years. As with every big-league ump, he had to take his share of abuse from both players and fans. Fans can be unmerciful with ump. And players don't always agree with a called third strike when the bases are loaded in the bottom of the ninth.

In the spring of 1980, Weyer was stricken with Guillain-Barre Syndrome. It is a mysterious illness that affects motor control and can also result in blindness. When the initial threat to his life had passed, Weyer's physician told him that he might never be able to work another baseball game.

But Lee Weyer loved the game of baseball and loved his job. So he worked hard at his program of physical therapy. He improved dramatically and regained his muscle coordination. The one thing that did not return to its normal range was his eyesight. Yet, with corrective lenses, his vision was judged to be good enough for him to be allowed to return to work.

A major-league umpire wearing eyeglasses! Can you imagine? "Hey, Clark Kent!" somebody would shout from the stands. Once, as the umpires went onto the field, he heard someone singing "Three Blind Mice." Weyer said of the comments, "I was so glad to be back that it was music to my ears."

If you really want something, you will put all your focus and energy into achieving it. If it is really important to you, you will not abandon your dream just because it is difficult to achieve. If you really want to do it, you will take whatever insults or indignities go with pursuing it.

 A teen-aged boy commits to staying drug free in a school program or to chastity until marriage and takes grief for the pledge.

 A guy who works construction is chided for accepting Christ by some of his "old gang" when he declines a weekend drinking binge.

 Someone in the office is shunned because she went above and beyond on a project and -- as one person put it -- "made the rest of us look bad." One of Jesus' apostles wrote about such things: "Of course, your old friends don't understand why you don't join in with the old gang anymore. But you don't have to give account to them. They're the ones who will be called on the carpet -- and that before God himself!" (1 Peter 4:4-5 MSG).

It's always important to remember who you're really trying to please

Children's Clothing Closet

We are excited to begin a new ministry to help local schools that have children that are in need of clothing. If you can help with this, we will be accepting children's clothing in all sizes, clean and in good condition, to begin building up inventory in our clothing closet. You may drop off your donations at the east side of the balcony. This will be an on-going project. We will accept donations of clothing year round. If you have any questions, you may contact the church office or Shelly Painter.
